Philosophy of Care INFANT ROOM CHILDREN

We value the trust you place in us by choosing Rockport to care for your infant. We believe in and are committed to the following:

- ✓ The environment we set up is consistent and nurturing. Our primary goal is to provide a safe, warm, secure, and loving place for your infant.
- ✓ Infancy is an important period for social and emotional development. During infancy, children form their first attachments to parents and teachers. The security of the child's attachment to these primary people provides a base for the child's sense of self-worth and trust, and it serves as a model for future social relationships.
- ✓ We see your infant as unique and strive to help him/her develop at his/her own pace.
- ✓ We are committed to building each child's self-esteem and to empowering them as individuals. We recognize and celebrate the rights of young children.
- ✓ We use Ohio's Infant & Toddler Guidelines (which consist of Physical Health, Emotional Development, Social Development, Motor Development, Language & Communication Development, and Cognitive Development) for our curriculum and the goals we establish. The years from birth to three set the stage for success in school and life.
- ✓ As your infant moves past his/her first year, he/she will be encouraged and challenged with new activities to make his/her transformation into a toddler rewarding and successful.
- ✓ We strive to maintain a stimulating atmosphere, which fosters the innate curiosity and enthusiasm within a child.
- ✓ We are committed to developing anti-bias attitudes and a respect and appreciation for all people. Through our curriculum and the materials and equipment we use, and the environment we create, we promote this learning.
- ✓ The care that we provide for your infant is enhanced by open communication, trust and positive relationships between parents and teachers and office staff. Our relationships with parents are deeply important to us, as we are all responsible for the healthy development of the children who attend the Rockport Early Childhood Center.

We value the trust you place in us by choosing Rockport to care for your toddler. We would like to take this opportunity to explain the philosophy and goals of our Toddler Program... ideals that we believe in and are committed to:

- ✓ The acquisition of self-help skills and toilet mastery are some major accomplishments of the toddler. All skills involve a lot of practice and inevitable mishaps. All efforts are nurtured and "accidents" are understood as a part of the learning process.
- ✓ We encourage the beginning of pro-social skills in their relationship with other children and adults through sharing, taking & waiting turns, and respecting the rights and property of others.
- ✓ We use Ohio's Infant & Toddler Guidelines (which consist of Physical Health, Emotional Development, Social Development, Motor Development, Language & Communication Development, and Cognitive Development) for our curriculum and the goals we establish.
